

brownsea
island

new centenary camp

The New Centenary Camp 1st-4th August 2007

Adam Jollans / Neil Calvert
Scouting 2007

One Hundred Years Ago...

- 20 boys from totally different backgrounds...
- Camped together for a week's adventure on Brownsea Island...
- And were a catalyst for the future, leading to 28 million Scouts worldwide today

One Hundred Years Later...

- 250 Scouts from every background in the UK ...
- Will camp together for 72 hours non-stop adventure on Brownsea Island...
- And can again be a catalyst for the future, inspiring Scouts and others in the UK to create a better world

The New Centenary Camp...

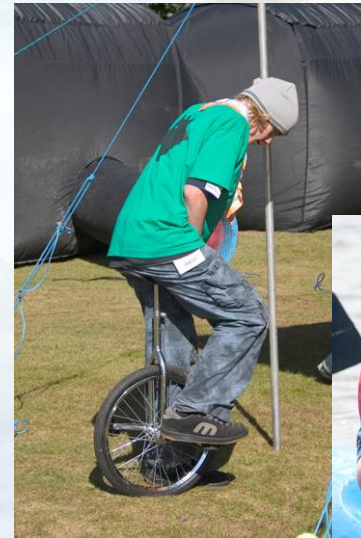

- Packed full of adventure, fun and friendship
- Reflecting the rich diversity and multicultural heritage of young people living in the UK today
- Thought-provoking, challenging and inspiring

Adventure without limits...

- Land Activities
 - from Island Adventure to circus skills
- Water Activities
 - from canoeing to coracling
- 1907 Activities
 - from exploring to tracking

Friendships across barriers...

- Every young person
 - girls and boys
 - with and without special needs
- Every background
 - rich and poor
 - rural and urban
 - celtic and african
- Every religion
 - muslim, sikh, jew, hindu, buddhist, christian, and more...

Catalyst for the future...

- A unique camp
 - Reflecting and valuing the wide diversity of young people today in the UK
- An inspiring camp
 - Learning about local and world issues and sharing ideas about how to solve them
- A peace camp
 - Young People showing to the world that peace is possible:
 - between individuals
 - between communities
 - and between religions

Plus...1st August on Brownsea

- Celebrate Scouting's Centenary
 - Join in the evening celebrations on Brownsea with 1,500 day visitors
 - Link with the Jamboree and worldwide celebrations
- Mark 100 years on Brownsea
 - The first experimental Scout Camp on started on 1st August 2007
 - You'll be on Brownsea Island exactly 100 years later
- Start the New Centenary
 - Launch the second century of Scouting on Brownsea Island

Who can participate ?

- Scouts and Explorers
 - Aged 13-18 on 1st August 2007
 - UK residents
- Individual applications
 - Small groups of friends are also welcome
- Young people who are
 - thirsting for adventure
 - wanting to meet new friends from different backgrounds
 - ready to be challenged

When, where & how much?

- 1st-4th August 2007
 - Midday-midday
- Brownsea Island
 - Small wooded island, owned by the National Trust
 - Camping next to the original campsite
 - Poole Harbour (on the south coast)
 - Participants need to arrange their own travel to Poole Quay
- £165 Camp Fee
 - Including all activities, food, and camping equipment
- Bursaries & Grants available
 - Both for the camp fee and travel

Summary

Brownsea New Centenary Camp

- Adventure without limits
- Friendship across barriers
- Catalyst for the future

For more details and to apply

- Visit www.brownsea2007.org
- Contact Dan Hewitt at Gilwell Park
 - 0208-433-7100
 - brownsea@scouting2007.org